The opening lyrics "In the morning/ In the evening/ Ain't we got fun" (1-3) imply a carefree vibe that stands in stark contrast to the tightly-controlled quality of the lovers' reunion. This contrast is further sharpened by the words of the next verse, which are: "Got no money/ But oh, honey/ Ain't we got fun!" (19-21).

Great Gatsby : Chapter 5 Literary Analysis by jessica b

Its vanished trees, the trees that had made way for Gatsby's house, had once pandered in whispers to the last and greatest of all human dreams; for a transitory enchanted moment man must have held his breath in the presence of this continent, compelled into an aesthetic contemplation he neither understood nor desired, face to face for the last time in history with something commensurate to his capacity for wonder.
